Dungeon Defenders: First Wave* now available, PvP Arena coming soon

Arena Teaser, Minimum Requirements & Suggested Devices Listed Below

Gainesville, FL – 24 December 2010 –

Trendy Entertainment has released their highly anticipated Unreal Engine based title, Dungeon Defenders: First Wave, on Android devices today, worldwide. Gamers can purchase the title at a special holiday price of only $2.99.

They have also announced Dungeon Defenders: Arena, a PvP “Multiplayer Online Battle Arena” expansion to Dungeon Defenders: First Wave, coming soon for iOS and Android! Check out the teaser below for more information.

Dungeon Defenders: First Wave is the first ever tower defense, online action-RPG. Mobile gamers and reviewers were delighted with the iOS version for its unprecedented depth and expansive multiplayer experience. Android gamers will get access to all these features and will be able to play with iOS users via a patch this January. Tegra-based devices will be able to play with PC players when it's released in Q1, 2011.

The game is available in multiple languages - English, French, German, Italian and Spanish. It carries an ESRB rating of “Everyone: 10+” and a PEGI Rating of 12+. The minimum system requirements for the game are:
